Will It Be War?
Gold Keeps Coming
Mr. Rockefeller Recovers
Carriers Drops in
By Arthur Brisbane

FRANCE BEGINS TO develop a Hitler complex. Doumergue, 71 years old, reveals a "nailed fist," tells the volatile French Chamber what it may and may not do. When trouble comes, someone must take charge, as Mussolini, Kemal and Stalin have shown.

Fighting continues in Austria, spreading to small villages. Italian troops are sent to the border. Italy, like France, is prepared to help Doumergue suppress the half-starved workers. Britain warns Europe, "Hands off Austria," not that Italy, France or England care what happens to crippled Austria. They do not want Hitler to walk in.

One steamer is about landing forty-two million dollars of gold, which will be added to Uncle Sam's hoard. Gold is coming here at the rate of one hundred millions a week. The President says we do not need gold. We are "off it." The ordinary citizen may not have any, it is not good for him. But Europe insists on sending it, by the hundreds of millions.

Much more may come, as the war danger becomes greater. The British government is said to believe that Japan and Russia will fight. Whatever happens, this country will stay out of it, and investments here, with the exception of stocks, are safe.

The wisdom of Japan should prevent the war that is predicted. Russia could be hurt, but not conquered, and her men are double, her resources ten times the men and resources of Hitler. Stalin is no feeble czar. He would sign no treaty not based on victory.

John D. Rockefeller, whose illness has worried his family for some months, has recovered and is on the way to his winter home.

Those who understand the work that Mr. Rockefeller has done, for industry, science, health and knowledge, will be glad to hear of his recovery, and glad that he can travel in comfort, warm coats, fur gloves, flannel-lined overalls.

All that is not too much for a man far past ninety, who has given to useful public purposes more money than any other ten men have ever given in the world's history. Five hundred millions of dollars, at least, to increase knowledge, promote science, protect the poor.

And, more valuable to the human race than all the millions wisely given, is Mr. Rockefeller's contribution to efficiency in industry, his demonstration that the public is best served by wide co-operation, not by wasteful, extravagant competition.

What Mr. Rockefeller's asset life has been, compared with that of "Coal Oil Johnny," taking his bath in champagne, his industrial methods of production and distribution have been compared with the wasteful competition that he found in every business, when he left his father's little house in the Catskill Mountains, and took his first step in the world's business.

By the way, you remember that Mr. Rockefeller's first partner was in the oil business.

5 'Baby Gunmen'

Chicago, Feb. 16 (AP)—Five "baby gunmen," all 18 years old or under, today were held to the grand jury in bonds totaling $100,000 on charges of committing more than 100 robberies.

The slugging bond, issued by Judge Frank M. Padden in boy's court, was a record. The youths were identified in court by 25 robbery victims.

BRAGGIOTTI'S SUIT STIRS SOCIETY

Boston society's shell-like pink receiving sets—hair brushed smartly back—were tuned on a Pacific coast wave length today, hoping to hear further details of the perplexed romance of Isidore Braggiotti and the bride he forsook for a honeymoon by his cousin.

The Boston voice teacher, father of the dancing Braggiotti slaters and of Mario Braggiotti, the pianist, and papa-in-law of John Davis Lodge, now drawing-room man of the movies, appears to have decided the whole thing was a mistake when the latest society acquisition to the ranks of the Braggiotti fled suit for divorce.

BRIDELESS HONEYMOON

Best relations of the estranged principals today expressed themselves as surprised and dismayed at the public "bustup" which came at Santa Barbara, Cal., yesterday when the latest society acquisition to the ranks of the Braggiotti fled suit for divorce.

HEIRNESS TO RAILROAD

Friends for 18 years, but husband and wife for only about 10 minutes, is the charge of the bereft Mrs. Braggiotti who, since 1918, was looked upon as a member of the Braggiotti household, endearingly referred to as "Cousin Anna."

The suing wife is the former Edith F. Perkins. She is a sister of Mrs. Robert F. Herick, 20 Commonwealth ave., and of Mrs. William Hooper of Manchester.

Their father was the late Charles E. Perkins, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

His son, a brother living in Framingham and a son, Edward Cunningham, in Dedham.

Nazis Real Victors in Austrian Civil War Outbreak

Editor's Note—"The sick man of Europe is sicker than ever." H. R. Knickerbocker writes in the fifth article of his series "Will War Come?" The brilliant foreign correspondent of International News Service shows the background of the events in Austria today, where civil war has raged for the past few days.

Vienna, Feb. 16—Civil war has ceased for the moment in Austria today but the sick man of Europe is sicker than ever and permanent peace on this continent is less secure than at any time since the last world war ended.

For four days Austrians have fought each other and the only perceptible victor in Germany, France and her allies have suffered a severe setback.

Italy has won a doubtful momentary triumph but the real winners are the Nazis who looked on while the Austrian government did their work for them and crushed the Austrian Socialists.

The balance sheet of the civil war that began Monday shows today:

Estimated at least four to five hundred dead. More than two thousand wounded.

Three executed. Concentration camp established to house from two to ten thousand prisoners, depending upon how long the captives will be kept.

Courts martial by the dozens with hundreds of the accused awaiting their possible death penalty.

Dissolution of the Socialist party and its traditions to yield complete abolition of the oldest and most successful moderate Socialist organization in Europe which had long been the strongest bulwark against Bolshevism.

Disbanding of the Austrian political field in Austria of the only opposition the Nazis have had besides the government.

This balance sheet omits mention of material loss. Five of the finest workers' apartment blocks in Europe, the Karl Marx House, the Schelling, Goethe, Reumann.

AERIAL STOCKS UNDER PROBE

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—The New York stock exchange today launched an investigation into recent trading in aircraft stocks.

The exchange has notified all members to report to the business conduct committee by noon, Feb. 16, a list of all sales made from Jan. 26 to Feb. 9 in the names of members of firms through whom transactions were made, and of the customers for whom they were executed.

Moving steadily onward in their march on the Chamber of Deputies at Paris, wounded and maimed veterans of the World War, members of the "Croix de Feu," were beaten and wounded by police and the military. The standard bearer of the "Croix de Feu" is shown carrying on despite an ugly head wound. (International News Photos.)

Europe today awaits in fear a Nazi coup d'état, engineered by Adolf Hitler, that confronts Austria.

Driven by terror at imminence of such an event, and a subsequent anti-Jewish campaign, Jews are rushing over the Austrian border to Poland in droves. More than 2000 have entered Poland in the last few days.

The great powers are standing especially on the sidelines, ready to plunge into the maelstrom. If a Nazi coup takes place, it will be the first in the Austrian civil war, setting for scattered encounters with Socialists who are hiding in caves.

OTHER NATIONS WATCH

The other European nations closely scanned the Austrian situation, which they considered fraught with danger to European tranquility, especially should the Nazis gain control.

OUTSIDER CWA WORKERS CHARGE FAVORITES KEPT CWA JOB

PROTEST MADE ON WINTER'S ACTIONS

130,000 Await Word From Capital to Go Back to Work

Charges of favoritism were hurled today at Dwight B. Winter, executive director of the CWA, by a committee of CWA employees who were discharged last night.

Thirty-two employees, many of whom have been employed since the CWA began last November, were dismissed while others who have been only recently employed were retained.

The discharged employees announced their intention to file an appeal from Director Winter's decision. Their appeal will go directly to the state administrative board, made up of Joseph W. Bartlett, William B. Coy and State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley.

"While we were being discharged yesterday, the officials of the CWA were hiring an accountant," a spokesman for the committee said. "The man is a former employee of a Boston engineering firm and was employed at one time with the men who are now directing CWA work here."

These officials fired us yesterday without cause while former employees of this Boston firm, who were discharged during the depression and forced into CWA work, were retained," Samuel A. Gaffer, George Maitland and John Dwyer, former employees of the auditing department, acting as a committee for the discharged employees, presented a petition for a public hearing to Winter. Meanwhile, officials of the CWA headquarters were awaiting instructions from Washington that would return 130,000 CWA workers to work on projects throughout the state.

The only CWA workers employed today in this state were 170 on the special administrative payroll.

ROOSEVELT TO SET NEW AIR MAIL POLICY

Congress Draws a Plan to Eliminate All of Excessive Profits

Washington, Feb. 16.—While President Roosevelt spent part of today preparing a special message to Congress in which he will outline a permanent air and coast mail policy, Congress awaited from Comptroller-General J. R. McCart advice on how to close the legal gap through which some companies have made excessive profits on army and navy airplane contracts obtained without competition.

At the request of the House Military Affairs committee, it was disclosed today, McCart is attempting to draft an amendment to the 1926 aircraft act. House members believe the amendment he is seeking would prevent excessive profits on future contracts.

The Senate air mail committee was busy today making arrangements to hear former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown on Monday. They expect to set soon the date on which they will listen to Charles A. Lindbergh.

Considerable sympathy for Col. L. H. Brittin, jailed vice-president of Northwest Airways, Inc., was expressed today in senatorial quarters. There was talk on Capitol Hill of a move Monday to suspend part of the 16-day sentence meted out to Brittin for contempt. This could be taken off by Senate resolution.

Roosevelt Dollar Policy Shows Gain
London, Feb. 16 (AP).—President Roosevelt's monetary policy became gradually more effective today and the United States dollar depreciated 4 cents to the pound to close at 52.00, to the pound, the lowest quotation since mid-January.

Recently the dollar had been comparatively stable around 53.00 and 5.00.

MRS. BULL SAYS SON RESIGNED TO DEATH

Tells Own Story of Fight to Escape Electric Chair

Henry Clay Bull is sentenced to die in the electric chair next Monday. The governor has refused clemency for the 32-year-old youth condemned for the murder of a Greenfield policeman. Today, after the boy's mother and his attorney, Abner S. Meland, to see Gov. Ely and make appeal plans failed. Here is the story of the mother's battle as she came from one of her last visits to the death house in Charlestown state prison.

Mabel L. Bull.
I have spent an hour with Henry. It may be one of his last. He told me, "Mother, if it's meant to be, we can't stop it." That's the way I feel, but I will not stop for a minute trying to help Henry. After all, what we are against is part of the scheme of what's meant to be.

It's nice to be allowed an hour, even in the death wing of the State prison, because when Henry was in the House of Correction in Greenfield they only let me see him a half hour a day.

He's restless. I could tell that talking to him and watching him, but he spends his time trying to cheer up the two other boys in there with him. You see they're in cells like this—one, two, three.

Mrs. Bull refers to Herman Buyer and John A. Donnellon, both condemned to die for the murder of a Somerville gas station attendant.

That's just like my Henry. He doesn't think about himself. He tells jokes to those other boys and chins with them. He wants to make them happy if he can.

Of course there are the three other boys there, too, and they talk with the boys. They play with every once in a while, and it doesn't make any difference which is the Catholic or the Protestant or the Jew.

CHRISTENED CATHOLIC
As a matter of fact, Henry and I have never believed in cranks. Why, an old friend of mine had Henry christened in a Catholic church when he was a baby. It's funny I had just remembered that.

Maybe that's why Father Farrell talks to him so much. You know Father Farrell is very attached to Henry. They sit and talk and point of science with each other. Maybe Father Farrell knows Henry, then asks him questions. Then Henry takes his turn.

Henry isn't downhearted. He is just resigned to whatever is coming. He isn't set down to writing any more. You know in Greenfield he wrote 23 articles on "The Religion of Science" and a story on "The Depression Criminal"—that's him. It's his own story.

We talked about what I'm doing to try and save him when I was today, and we talked about our beliefs, our faith, our "Science."

—That we don't expect to communicate with each other after death. That's silly. Why, Henry myself have no control over the beyond. He might not let his spirit come back to me.

Why I sit down and think like that and inspirations come to me to write poems after poem. That cheers me.

I'm without money in my fight to save my son, but friends are doing everything they can for me.

Two friends in New York are trying to find the gun expert who found that one bullet taken from Officer Jordan (the murdered man) and another from the station attendant couldn't possibly have come from Henry's guns. They didn't fit.

WIFE DIVORCES ERRANT AGENT

Mrs. Winnie A. Russell of Westland ave., Back Bay, won an uncontested divorce from Sidney Russell, a freight agent for the New Haven Railroad today in Suffolk court.

Mrs. Russell told Judge McCone that they were married in July, 1920. In August, 1920, they were living in Quincy, and Russell began courting a girl who lived across the street.

Whenever Mrs. Russell protested she said she was punched in the face.

"He told me he wouldn't give up the other girl, and said he was leaving me. He left," she testified. "I lost 30 pounds and was under doctor's care for six months."

BOSTON'S ARMY MAIL FLIERS ARE READY

Squadron Prepares for First Hop at Mid-night Monday

The army will take over flying of the airmail in the eastern zone at midnight Monday. It was announced today by Maj.-Gen. Fox Connor, commanding the First Army Corps Area.

According to the Boston commander, Maj. Byron Q. Jones, formerly attached to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has already established headquarters at Newark and will be in command of the eastern zone.

Capt. Albert M. Gulderson has been made executive officer, Capt. Newton Lounsfellow adjutant and Capt. James P. Hutchinson operations officer.

The flying personnel, Gen. Connor said, will be drawn from the 33d, 35th, 36th and 37th army pursuit squadrons stationed at Langley Field, Va.

Boston has been selected as one of eight service and control stations in the eastern zone, with Cleveland as the most western station in the zone and Miami the station farthest south.

In the mail service the army ships will be fully equipped for night and blind flying, will have radio and even carry smoke candles for signaling in case of emergency. As emergency duty, two planes from the 23d Division, M. N. G. National Guard, have been flown to Langley Field, where they will have radio installed.

DOUMERGUE TO USE BIG STICK

Paris, Feb. 16 (AP)—Premier Gaston Doumergue, armed with the big stick of popular support in France, showed a firm hand to Germany today.
His new ministry, with its eyes fixed closely on Hitler's troubles, openly charged Chancellor Adolf Hitler with having rearmed Germany.
Hence, said a note to Berlin drafted as one of the cabinet's first acts, further Franco-German talks on arms are useless.
In the Doumergue government's first encounter with parliament, it won the almost unprecedented support of all save 193 of the 595 deputies. This is a bigger margin than had accorded Raymond Poincaré, "Saviour of France" in 1926.

U. S. BANKS NEW BANK CHAIN TO GIVE LOANS

Washington, Feb. 16.—The government is preparing to go deeper into the banking business unless there is an early and appreciable increase in the flow of capital into heavy industry.

President Roosevelt and his advisers feel the whole recovery movement is being retarded by the reluctance of the commercial banks to extend medium and long-term credit to industry. Industrialists are constantly complaining that they find it difficult even to get short-term loans.

A radically different banking order for the period of the economic emergency would be set up under plans tentatively approved by the President.

The plan means shifting a load of capital financing from the banks to a chain specially created. At Mr. Roosevelt's word the Federal Reserve Board is perfecting legislation for a chain of banks organized to make capital loans to little industries.

If some officials have their way the securities act and 1933 banking law will be somewhat amended to lift restrictions on capital fluctuations.

A thorough inquiry into allegations that national bank executives are instructing banks to "clamp down" on loans despite the administration's policy of liberality of credit was planned by a House banking and currency subcommittee today.

WIGILANTES FOR E. BRIDGEWATER

East Bridgewater, Feb. 16 (AP).—Police Chief Everett F. Russell today announced a plan whereby he hopes to organize citizens into a committee of vigilantes in case of a serious crime.

The chief said all men in the town, which has a population of 2000, will be invited to attend classes in pistol shooting to be conducted by experts in the town fire station. When the pupils are proficient enough to permit the chief will grant them permits to carry pistols.

A special series of signals on the fire department system will be arranged to call the vigilantes out in case of need.

A gang of robbers have been preying on banks in the smaller cities and towns of the state recently and as a precaution in case of a visit here Chief Russell made his plan.

What You Call a Star If You're in the Know

Isabel Jewell Jack Oakie Joan Blondell John Barrymore

By ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Staff Writer, Hollywood, Feb. 16.—In Pinewood some stars have names whose use is reserved to their friends.

"Hey, right up and call me 'Speedy,'" invited Harold Lloyd in one of his films—and that is what his intimates do.

If you know Clark Gable well enough, you can call him "Pappy." Ruby Keeler is "Nubbia" to a few people, including husband Al Johnson. Jack Oakie has a dozen nicknames, but most of those who don't say "Jack" say "Buckley."

The fan who wants to appear on intimate terms with Herbert Marshall may hail him as "Herbie," but nobody else does. His friends call him "Bart."

ROSEBUD, DODO, WINKIE
To practically everybody, Minnie Howell is Joan. At home they call her "Baby."

George Baran calls his wife, and dearest, reason—Grace Allen calls George "Googie."

Around his family Joe E. Brown at various times has been addressed as "Evan," James Durant will answer to "Jimmy" and to "Rechnous," but if you know him very well you call him "Jim."

The crowd calls Edward G. Robinson "Eddie" but to his mama he is still "Mama."

William Fendley's friends call him "Bill," his family says "Willie," and Carole Lombard and a few others mean him when they say "Junie."

Isabel Jewell calls Lee Tracy "Angie," and Lee calls her "Pearlita." The privileged few address Ruth Chatterton as "Mike," Roland Young as "Roland," and Charles Laughton as "Charles," to the incongruous couple of "Buster."

By Arthur Brisbane

the well-informed jackal leading the lion to its prey, or the rhinoceros bird telling the rhinoceros when to look up and pay attention.

The highest things that nature does are interesting, as when she has a huge Pacific, throws the Himalayas into the air, or constructs Primo Carnera, standing six feet six above the soles of his feet, weighing 270 pounds ordinarily, 258 pounds when he fights, trained.

Carnera became heavyweight champion of the world last June 4, defeating Mr. Sharkey. Since then he has defended his title once in Rome, with Musulinu and 75,000 other Italians looking on, near the Villa Borghese.

The great Bique, Uranus, as big as Carnera, was the other man in the fight. He lost.

On the twenty-eight day of this month Carnera fought his title again. Mr. Tommy Loughran, described by Mr. Johnston as "a good, hard fighter, and really religious; he goes to the victim or victor in that fight."

There are various things that you would prefer to being Tommy Loughran on the twenty-eight, although Carnera is a good-natured giant, never loses his temper when hit in face or stomach. The "rabbit punch" on the back of the neck, he does not know. The back of his neck is too high up.

Mr. Johnston, as "promoter," arranges boxing matches for consideration, does not manage fighters. But he has ideas about management.

"If I were managing this boy," says Mr. Johnston, the top of whose derby hat reaches about to Carnera's middle waistcoat button. "I'd take him around more. I'd have him at every opera, with a stove-pipe hat on him that would make him seven feet high, overall, and I'd dress him in accordance with his greasiness, nothing flashy, you know, everything refined, but the finest make, with velvet collar and his dress coat. Big people like to see a man like that."

They do indeed. "Perfumed dandies," in the days of Rome's decadence, used to follow giant fair-haired gladiators from the north, exulting at their deep chests and huge arms, warring on their death or survival. Perfumed dandies of modern opera, if there are any, would probably pay the same compliment to the dark-skinned Latin gladiator.

"That boy," says Mr. Johnston, before he leads the Italian hounding elsewhere, "can hold his own with the best of the opera or anywhere. He speaks four languages, English, French, Spanish and Italian. You don't know any other fighter who can speak four languages, do you?"

The writer admitted that he did not know any other fighter who spoke even one language.

Hitherto, the American people have taken little interest in government. But now politicians will hear from them, because they have something to be interested in. Manufacture of jobs, distribution of billions, establishment of union labor on a national basis with government backing, laws to prevent wages from falling below and hours from rising above a certain point, are things interesting. The people will take an interest in them, and tell their Congressmen about it.

DEFENSE WEEK OPENS TONIGHT

National Defense Week, which begins today will be featured by two radio addresses, one tonight by Brig-Gen John A. Sherburne and another by Col. Arthur N. Payne of the 27th Infantry.

Gen. Sherburne will speak at 9 p. m. over WAAB on "National Defense." Col. Payne's address is scheduled for next week.

The week's program is nationwide and is sponsored by the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States, the United States American Legion, the Navy League, the American War Mothers, the Military Order of the World War, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the United States Naval Reserve Officers Association.

4 Hurt in Crash

Rayham, Feb. 16.—Four persons were injured, two of them critically, in a collision between a sedan and a large truck near here tonight.

Meteor 'Bombards' Pilot, Barely Misses Plane

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 16 (AP).—The strange experience of being bombarded from space by a meteor was described by Pilot Hiram Sheridan on his last hour with the eastbound night American Airways mail plane from Fort Worth, Texas.

Sheridan said just before he saw the meteor break into flame as it struck the earth's atmosphere and describe a huge arc, coming directly at the plane.

"I changed my course and put on speed, but it looked like it would strike the plane in spite of all."

Five families were driven to the street today during a fire in Shawmut ave., South End, which required two and a half hours to extinguish and spread meanwhile to two adjoining buildings.

The long battle resulted because the firemen had difficulty extinguishing the main blaze, which was between the ceiling and the slate roof of the building at 411 Shawmut ave.

After the firemen had removed some of the roof, sparks landed tops of houses at 409 and 413 Shawmut ave.

One of those driven to the street was the Rev. Raymond A. Chapman, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, South End, who resides at 413 Shawmut ave.

Damage to all three buildings was estimated at $300.

5 FAMILIES ARE ROUTED BY FIRE

Hope perished today in the breasts of Herman "Red" Snyder, John A. Donnell and Henry Gray Bull that the legal death facing them after midnight next Monday may yet be sidestepped, according to word brought out of the death house today by young Bull's mother.

Mrs. Mabel Bull of Brooklyn, N. Y., accompanied by her attorney, Adam McLeod, visited the condemned trio in state prison and said they were all in good spirits.

Despite the refusal of Gov. Ely to intervene in their cases, all three are confident Mrs. Bull said, that "something will come up to save them."

None of the condemned men has made any unusual request for food or favors in the death house, and the three spend most of their time in conversing from cell to cell, although they cannot see each other.

Bull is under sentence of death for the slaying of a policeman in Greenfield, while Snyder and Donnell are to die for the murder of a filling station attendant in Somerville.

3 of 24 Pass Test for City Piloting

Only three of 24 men, who took the civil service test for quarter-master-pilot in the Boston public works department on Dec. 19, are passing grades.

The list established today, in order by William F. Kirkwood, war veteran, of Dorchester. The other two, in the order named, are Lawrence T. Sullivan, of East Boston, and Raymond H. Donnell, of Boston.

MRS. ROLLINS ENDS QUARREL

Everything is peaceful once more in the West-Newton st. Back Bay home of Maurice L. Rollins, because Mrs. Marion Nelson Rollins has returned home, and one of the equity suits brought by Rollins was dismissed today in Superior court.

Counsel for Rollins is Capt. Jesse Raymond Hodges, skipper of the freighter, Commercial Traveler, told Judge Whiting the petition to restrain the skipper from seeing Mrs. Rollins was to be dismissed by agreement.

A second petition, seeking to restrain Mrs. Rollins from seeing Capt. Hodges, is still pending, but the court was told that it, too, will be dismissed shortly.

The bills charge the skipper and Mrs. Rollins were associated together for two years, and the wife's affections were alienated. Capt. Hodges arrived in port Wednesday, and sailed yesterday.

CARNEY'S FATE HELD BY JURY

The case against Martin J. Carney of South Boston, charged with assaulting Miss Anne Dorelle when she sprang his advances, was given to the jury today in superior court.

Carney is alleged to have assaulted the girl in an alley near her home in West Third st., South Boston. In his testimony, however, he said he found her lying in the alley, and was running to call a policeman when a passerby seized and held him.

The case was heard before Judge Wilford D. Gray.

ASSASSIN PLOTS REFACE DOLLFLUSS

SABOTAGE, GUERRILLA WARFARE ARE ORDERED VIENNA

Vienna, Feb. 16 (AP)—Except for rumors of attempted assassinations, threat of sabotage and occasional gunfire, peace has returned to Austria today after four days of civil war.

The stubborn battles between Socialists and government forces, which had taken from 1000 to 1500 lives was ended, but unverified rumors were rampant.

One of these told of a wholesale assassination plot directed against Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss—who has escaped assassination before—by Vice Chancellor Emil Fey, and second Vice Chancellor Prince Ernst von Starheimberg.

Other government officials likewise were mentioned as the objects of plots but the principals concerned admitted nothing. Socialist headquarters issued orders calling for a campaign of sabotage against utilities and public services and for guerrilla warfare.

As precautions against further concerted Socialist actions the Heimwehr occupied municipal fire department headquarters and installed its own staff of practical assistants for the control of the communications system.

PHONE SYSTEM USED
The Heimwehr move was impressive. It was explained, because its leaders believed Socialists had been using the fire department telephone line for their own communications.

The secret passages into the roomy sewers which honeycomb the ground under Vienna, have become the last stronghold for the stubborn Socialist fighters. Last night, Socialist riflemen emerged from manholes in the Stadt-Park district and terrified foreign residents who were kept awake by the clamor and the gunfire as the Socialists skirmished with police.

Despite efforts to rout them, the underground army—no one knows how large it is—still is lurking in the sewers.

At Linz it was announced that the superintendent of schools in Upper Austria had ordered the schools opened tomorrow saying, however, that pupils should have every opportunity to attend for a while wherever necessary.

About 3000 prisoners are held by authorities in Vienna. Many of them are concentrated in the former automobile body factory and in the former imperial military barracks.

New Pacific Quake Shock
Santa Rosa, Cal., Feb. 16 (INR)—The eighth of a series of slight earthquakes today shook Santa Rosa and a large portion of Sonoma County at 8:10 a. m.

20 Socialists Try Suicide

Vienna, Feb. 16 (INR)—The entire Socialist families, comprising 20 men, women and children, attempted a mass suicide today in the weeks of the Socialist defeat in the civil war.

Sealing doors and windows, the scores of militant citizens, preferring death to surrender, turned on gas jets in their apartments in a large workers' block.

They were discovered before death had overtaken anyone.

U. S. FIGHTS AIR MAIL SUIT

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—The suit of the Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., to prevent cancellation of its air mail contract was challenged before Federal Judge John C. Knox by the government today on the ground that it could not be brought without the government's consent.

United States Attorney Martin C. Conboy and Attorney John Thomas Smith gabbled over service on New York's postmaster, John Kieley.

Conboy announced he was challenging jurisdiction. Interior Postmaster General Parley was concerned. He went on to say that he also would challenge the propriety of service on Kieley.

After reading the complaint by which the air firm hopes to restrain the government from annulling its contract, Conboy said:

"The suit is against the jurisdiction to grant the bill for injunction."

"Are there any cases," asked Judge Knox, "where a court has restrained a cabinet officer in the matter of a contract?"

"I know of no such case," answered Conboy.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

Italy Favors 3-Power Edict on Austria

Rome, Feb. 16 (INR)—The Italian government favors declarations by Italy, Great Britain and France, reaffirming Austria's unequivocal right of independence and integrity, but is not requesting joint action. It was authoritatively stated here today.

Information as to the Italian initiative, as given out in Paris and London today, is erroneous in that respect. It is true, however, that Italy has no intention of issuing a formal note on the subject.

"What is true," the foreign office informed International News Service, "is simply that Italy, like France and Great Britain, is preparing to reply to an Austrian memorandum, covering a copy of recent Italian action in the interference in Austria's internal affairs which Austria submitted to the three powers."

"It is probable that this expression of views by the three powers, though not made jointly, will result in a statement firmly affirming Austria's unequivocal right to independence and integrity."

According to newspapers here, Czechoslovakia was preparing to intervene in behalf of the Austrian Socialists, but Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss was forestalled the move.

If Pilsch said: "The Czech-Slovakian republic will have difficulty in presenting world opinion from calling her to book for certain precise facts."

Members of the government of Prague cannot be called to answer for the shots by Socialists at Vienna on the public forces, but it is certainly not demanded how on earth her customs agents did not know that last week two cartons of arms and ammunition directed to the Socialists of Floridsdorf (in suburban Vienna) crossed the frontier."

GERMANY GETS BRITISH NOTE

London, Feb. 16 (INR)—A note, incorporating Foreign Secretary John Simon's statement in Parliament Tuesday, warning Germany to keep hands off Austria, has been handed to Baron Francenstein, Austrian minister, by the foreign office. It was disclosed today.

While the British government is considering further steps to support Austria's integrity against a possible Nazi coup, the Simon declaration remains the keynote of British policy.

The most significant paragraph in Sir John's pronouncement in common was: "While the British government has no intention of interfering with the internal affairs of another country, we fully recognize the right of Austria to demand that there should be no interference with her internal affairs from any quarter."

Having taken the lead in warning against foreign interference in the strife-torn republic, Great Britain is now considering further action in collaboration with France and Italy.

NAZI COUP FEARS AUSTRIA

Prince Ernst von Starheimberg, home guards leader.

The situation in the various capitals follows:

VIENNA—Secret parleys, looking toward reorganization of the Dollfuss government and possible creation of an Austrian fascist state are in progress with rumors that a revolutionary coup. Socialists driven to sewers in sporadic fighting.

LONDON—Great Britain hands the Austrian minister a note, quoting as the keynote of British policy Foreign Secretary Simon's warning to Germany and all other powers. Tuesday, against interference in Austria's affairs, Britain is considering further action in defense of Austria, but opposes an Italian proposal for a joint Anglo-French-Italian declaration, favoring separate statements.

PARIS—French, Italian and Czechoslovakian representatives, in preliminary conversations, agreed armed intervention to protect Austrian sovereignty against German Nazis was unlikely. France and Czechoslovakia supporting an Italian proposal that the powers publicly reaffirm their intention of maintaining Austria's independence.

VIENNA—Hundreds of Austrian Jews fled across the Polish border fearing the early advent of a Nazi government at Vienna and an anti-Semitic campaign similar to that waged by Hitler in Germany.

ROME—Reports current that Italy might demand an investigation by the League of Nations of published charges that Czechoslovakia supported the Socialist uprising by shipping arms and ammunition into Austria.

Press attacks on Czechoslovakia, the foreign office admitted, represented the Italian government's view.

500,000 N. Y. PROTESTS

New York, Feb. 16 (INR)—A half million trades unionists were scheduled to halt work at 3 p. m. today while several thousand participants in a mass meeting at Madison Square Garden in protest against Fascist activities in Austria.

The protest meeting is sponsored by the right wing and Communist labor factions.

Among those scheduled to address the workers are Mayor LaGuardia, Matthew Wolf and ex-Judge Jacob Fankler.

Meanwhile an investigation is under way into charges of police brutality at the combined Communist-Socialist demonstration before the Austrian consulate Wednesday. Complaints were filed with Mayor LaGuardia by Robert Minor, Communist leader.

Last night officers assigned to today's meeting were told to leave their nightsticks at home.

Collins' Widow Sticks to Stage

London, Feb. 16 (INR)—Funeral services were arranged today for Sewell Collins, American newspaper writer, cartoonist and theatrical producer, who died yesterday. Margaret Moffatt, his widow, appeared as usual last night in her role in "The Wind and the Rain" at St. Martin's Theater, "going on" with the assertion that it was what Collins would have wished.

'CAUTIOUS' AID FOR AUSTRIA

Paris, Feb. 16 (AP)—Cautious, non-military aid to Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria was agreed upon today by Premier Gaston Doumergue of France and Foreign Minister Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia, as the best way to prevent the Nazis from taking over the power in Austria.

There was no question, it was said, of an international force occupying Austria to assure its independence.

Dr. Benes, it was understood, argued against using in internal affairs and pointed out that Austria was not menaced by armed external forces.

Austrian Jews Flee Nazis

Warsaw, Feb. 16 (INR)—Hundreds of Jewish refugees from Austria were pouring into Poland today in fear of a possible Nazi domination of their homeland. Nearly 2000 were estimated to have entered Poland during the past days, and many more were expected next week. Refugees leaders declared they expected Austrian Jews would receive about the same treatment under a Heimwehr government as they would under Nazis.

GREATER BOSTON GOES TO WAR

Our Soldiers Over Here, Over There as Recorded for History by Camera

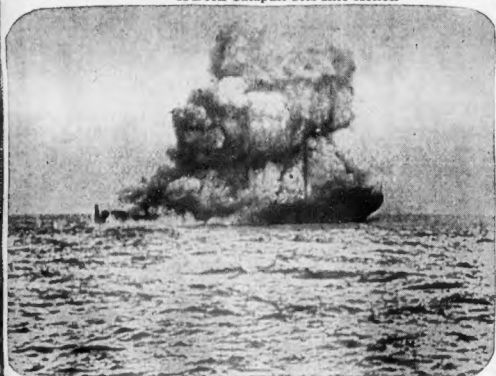

THE WAR AT SEA—The horrors of war were not confined to land. The German submarine, U-35, pictured below, sank 27 ships without bothering to find out whether they were armed or not. In this gripping series, the submarine sights and sinks an unarmed merchantman, not even submerging doing it. (The pictures are scenes from "Forgotten Men," sensational, uncensored moving picture record of the World War, edited and assembled by Samuel Cumming.)

WELCOME HOME!—Two medals grace the coat of Brig-Gen. Charles Cole (arrow) as he, with much delight, leads his 51st Brigade down Commonwealth ave. on that day—long to be remembered in Boston. It was April 25, 1919. The famed 26th Division was being welcomed home. Gen. Cole was attended by his staff as the crowds on either side of the thoroughfare cheered loudly. (International News Photo.)

HIS OWN FLAG—A Somerville man, known in the British Army as Lieut. Francis H. Jeffery, is reputed to have carried the first American flag "over the top." Jeffery was abroad for an American shoe firm in 1918. He wanted excitement. He joined the British forces—but put a small American flag in his pocket. Jeffery lives at 156 Walnut st., Somerville.

SOUP TIME

Men picked for overseas duty had to be strong. They had to be well fed. That large container was filled with the best of vegetable soup—as the line started to form at one of the many company kitchens at Camp Devens, Ayer. Smiles attended the eat hour—just to prove that good soup was anticipated. Soldier boys got plenty of soup in those days. And sharing in the soup distribution were thousands of New England boys, all thrilled with their new life at Devens.

(Photo by Erickson.)

HONOR THE BRAVE—Gyrl P. Morissette of Quincy went to war. He battled with the 26th Division. He was killed in action. They brought him home. You see the cortege as it passes through a Quincy street.

Parents, friends were broken-hearted. Gyrl was buried. To honor this hero the Gyrl P. Morissette Legion Post of West Quincy was named. (Photo by Edward H. MacDonald, 78 Gass pl., Quincy.)

When our War of 1812 occurred, England was already engaged in a titanic struggle—the Napoleonic Wars.

Yet England, though regarding us lightly as an unprepared foe, took time enough and ships enough and men enough to send an expedition across the Atlantic. And British troops invaded our shores, and put the torch to the City of Washington—our new capital.

Thus the War of 1812 proved that AMERICA CAN BE INVADDED. Today, with armaments and airplanes what they are, invasion would be much easier—and far more destructive.

The pictures on this page show what it meant to us to enter a FOREIGN war unprepared. They show our civilian boys made hastily into soldiers, and flung into battle against veterans, in a strange region.

How much worse if the same kind of warfare WERE TO VISIT AMERICA—as it CAN DO, and more than possibly WILL DO, unless WE ARE PREPARED AGAINST IT.

The lesson cannot be too often repeated—the surest way to AVOID war is to BE PREPARED for war.

BUSSMAN NOW WOULD REWED FIRST WIFE

Chicago, Feb. 13 (AP)—The wedding plans of Francis X. Bussman have taken a sudden and dramatic turn and his third marriage may be to his first wife, he said today. His engagement to Carmela Ponnelle, opera singer, announced last week in Boston, Mass., has been broken.

He announced a possibility of reconciliation with his first wife, Mrs. Josephine Bussman of Beverly Hills, Calif., mother of five of his six children, from whom he was divorced in 1913. His marriage to Beverly Haynes followed the next day.

The publicity attendant on his and Miss Ponnelle's confirmed announcement of their coming marriage, Bussman said, resulted in telephone calls, telegrams and cables of protest from his children. They wanted him to talk to their mother in California. He did this and old memories were revived.

"Carmela and I talked it all over," he said. "She is big and fine, and she is a mother to the sake of the children, we had better call it off."

And now Bussman is planning to go to California to see his first wife as soon as his present engagements will permit.

3 Police Praised for Terror Catch

Three police officers who captured a bandit after he had robbed a sergeant of his gun, kidnapped a patrolman, and created brief one-man reign of terror last month, today were commended by Police Commissioner Hittman.

The policemen, all of the North End station, are Sergeant Coleman, S. J. Doherty and Patrolman Michael J. Denshey and William A. Cohn.

When Jeanette MacDonald and Ramon Novarro flash upon the screen of Loew's State Theater on Saturday morning they will be in the "line-up" for the members of "Secret Agent X-9's" clubs. For the "Cat and the Fiddle" will be presented for the free entertainment of the boys and girls who have club membership cards and their "X-9's" pins and who follow the adventures of the secret agent on the comic page of the Boston Evening American.

Free Show for 'X-9' Clubs

Remember tomorrow is the big day at Loew's State Theater, Massachusetts ave. and Norway st. Back Bay, for your free showing of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "The Cat and the Fiddle."

And boys and girls who are not registered, why not fall in line to get in on the big show with those who are secret agents now? Ramon Novarro and Jeanette MacDonald are costars in this most pretentious offering of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio for the current show season.

"The Cat and the Fiddle" has won a star play but it is due to win still greater renown in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production.

If you are not enrolled today to the comic section of today's issue and see for yourself how you may join the Secret Agent X-9 Club.

You still have time to enroll. Get in on Saturday's big show. Remember that those who will be mailed unless they have BOTH their badge and membership card for the Bull Company.

Follow the instructions and a membership card and badge will be mailed you. Remember the time is 10 o'clock and the place is Loew's State Theater.

Shotgun Wounds Fatal to Youth

James Moran, 19, of Arlington st., Brighton, died today of wounds suffered last January 24 when he accidentally shot himself with a shotgun while duck hunting at Chandler's pond, Brighton.

The youth, who died in St. Elizabeth Hospital, suffered the injuries when he exploded the weapon while attempting to "break" it.

CHICKIE'S HAZARD

By Elenore Menerin

Pippin in a Haze as More Kisses Call Her Heart to Declare Its Love at Once WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Pretty Pippin, just turned 15, daughter of Chickie, and Kathie McKee, laughingly appeals to Kathie's first brother, Kevin Malone, to take them to their first dance. Kevin, who is 24, and is regarded as a coming young physician, promises. Then, teased by the two girls because he is eight years older than they, he kisses Pippin and kisses her—roughly and feebly—with the words, "That will show you how old I am."

Pippin is thrilled, and on the way to her home she is happy over the fact that Kevin is going to take her to the dance after the football game. Pippin tells her mother, Chickie, about going to the dance and, after a little persuasion, she is allowed to go. Chickie, meantime, thinks of the time she went to her first dance and wonders if the same fate will befall her lovely daughter. Pippin prepares for the new adventure and her mother admires her while she dresses. After she leaves, Chickie prays that her daughter will not follow in her footsteps.

At the dance Pippin has a glorious time and is bewildered at the beauty of the place. There were only crystals hanging from the chandeliers. Only roses blooming on the table. And music no better than she heard every day over the radio. But to Pippin, who had never been dancing before, the room was a whirl of earthly beauty. She hummed against the young man's heart. "Feel like that?" Kevin asked. "Oh, entrancing. This place is so beautiful, and doesn't the music sort of clutch your throat and make you want to do all kinds of wild, adventurous things?" said Pippin.

Pippin's two dances five times together. She followed Kevin's lead as a song followed music. She said: "You darling! I didn't dream you'd treat me this grand. And how you dance!" "Pretty good for an old buck," he teased, swinging her suddenly from the room to a little balcony, where he lit a cigarette. She watched his face, quiet and meditative now. He looked terribly handsome and strong. He advises her to be careful and not to become a butterfly. She laughs and tells him "that she is well able to take care of herself." He tells her that he is going to watch her step, because he won't be around to look after her on account of his going to Europe. She feels lonely about his going, but tells him that she cannot fall for any other man if "I keep the image of you in my mind."

Kevin brings her home and she finds Chickie waiting for her. After telling her mother about the wonderful time she had in Kevin's company, she kisses her good-night and goes to bed. She dreams again of Kevin's kiss and wonders if he will ever kiss her again. Overnight Pippin goes to sleep with more and more dances. She craves excitement. However, Chickie thinks her daughter has gone into the strange land of adolescence too soon. David comforts her. He loves his daughter and a strange sense of understanding exists between them. Pippin, while in the laboratory with David, tells him how she longs for life and adventure. He listens while she pours out her innermost secrets. She admits being in love with Kevin when David tells her he is aware of her fondness for the young doctor. Kevin prepares for his trip to Europe, and Pippin is happy as she helps him pack. Pippin writes in her diary that she would always love Kevin. He sails for Europe, but before going on the boat he kisses Pippin a fond goodbye. She returns home alone. The first letter from Kevin makes her happy. She reads a handsome young man, Bill Lodge, at a party and has a wonderful time. He tells her she is the prettiest girl in the world. Bill advises Pippin not to acquire a "pat." Pippin refuses a bracelet gift from him.

Edward, Mary's son, catches Chickie and his mother against their shyness in raising their daughters. He tells Kathie about her boys. Pippin writes a long, girlish letter to Kevin, saying "Why do people spoil the world? If it wasn't for you, I'd want to die tonight, things seem so sad." She never guesses how it might touch his heart.

CHAPTER 9

Pippin hung in the lovely asphodel dress back in her closet. She was suddenly all alone and very depressed. She had never figured men might regard the clothes a girl wore as an invitation. Now, away from the past year's asphodel, she found herself in a new dress.

A night at the Mark, when she stopped to greet Emma Lawton, Emma stood with her back to the table, resting on her hands. Pippin thought she looked fetching, casual and luxurious. A man in the party, rather old, perhaps 30 or so, stood at Emma's side.

He put his hand under her arm. Emma told her that "John is here, she told him. He gave a queer, slow smile and answered: "Why do you advertise, darling, if you don't want customers?"

Another scene—a Halloween party given by some artists in an enormous old house on No. 111—the place must have been built half century ago during the heyday of the Connecticut silver lode. All the locks and knobs were of pure silver with great ornate monograms.

ARTISTS PUT ON GAY FROLIC IN OLD RESIDENCE

The walls were in gorgeous old brocade, but the place was falling to pieces. It was rented at a nominal sum and divided into apartments by these artists.

All was hilarity, color and convivial joy. Like the picture in the movies—laughter and girls riding down waterfalls. Pippin wanted to sing. Until the middle of the evening when she saw a girl who was plump and dark like a forest creature sitting on a little in a room where couples were drinking.

The girls face was white and white. Her eyes grew enormous, big and black. Presently her dress, held at the shoulder with thin straps, slid down. She made vague, fumbling attempts to shove it back. Her secret—the divorced husband of some writer—stood, and, where the dress slipped, kissed her.

Pippin turned hot with shame at the memory. She was not alone. Edward's judgment. But, after all, why DOES a girl wear such clothes unless she means to tempt?

Bill thought fiercely: "I'm glad Bill didn't see me in that dress." When she went out with him she wore a white dress thing, very high, and with little puff sleeves. He had selected it.

PIPPIN PROTESTS SIB. & LITTLE DRESS TO MOTHER Pippin wore it twice, then protested. "It's too young. It reminds me of that silly picture. Standing with reluctant feet where the brook and river meet. Why do you like me in the school girl pose, forever. She maneuvered to get Pippin's confidence.

"You've always complained your high school boys can't talk. You should be pleased when Bill seems bright and rather neat with his phrases."

"Sense brought! You've got your nerve, Kathie! Tell me you'll take real brains to get through Annabelle with flying colors at the head of your class as Bill did."

"But I've never heard anyone as quick with repartee outside of Sam McCall's Whistler!" Chickie winked and turned her head. Not quick enough for Pippin's ear.

"I get you, mother! This is your cunning way of encouraging me to be light minded. You're afraid I've tragic longings, as you're afraid to have me jump about with this one and that."

"Not at all, darling. But it's nice to have murmurs echoing in your heart about the quiet years."

"What a lovely ideal! But isn't it a shame life has to get monotonous and quiet and all the glory fades?" Chickie's lips parted on a lingering smile.

"You're looking mysterious, mother, as though you have some wonderful secret. Does it mean I should never be in love?"

"I love doesn't need to get fat. It can remain shining through the years and you're not bored?"

"You don't get older and flash and sweet new things?"

CHICKIE AND PIPPIN DISCUSS ROMANCE

"Perhaps it does, darling. You can't imagine one who suits his high gleaming seas and knows what a mighty tide can be getting excited over ruffles in a duck pond, can you?"

Pippin stared at her mother. Suddenly she closed her eyes.

"Will love like that come to me?"

"It will, Pippin. You're not ready for it. Now is your chance to gather those murmurs. No need to hurry to put them in water."

"I imagine Emma Bill can whisper quite pleasantly."

"Who knows?" uttered Pippin, grabbing up a box of flowers and rushing off to put them in water.

She wrote in her diary: "I'm glad I'm not alone. I'm glad I'm not alone. I'm glad I'm not alone."

She knew I'm glad for Kevin. Doesn't want to be. Wants me to smile at Bill and George and anybody else, but she's worried that it's too late. And it is! Who is she afraid of you, Kevin? Nothing you could do but would be his. I'm glad I'm not alone."

"I wonder if you think of me every night I take out your picture. I dream that you take my hand and we run away. We run to a wild forest. We sink down and are lost in purple oblivion. It's lucky for me, Kevin, you're away and I'm too young to know what love can be!"

Bill. He's darling and sweet. He's pleasant and fun like a kitten. But I don't feel much of anything when I'm with him. I don't feel that strange yearning with him. I don't feel that I'm too young to know what love can be."

CHICKIE SAYS SHE LIKES PIPPIN'S ADMIRER

She saw the boy was deeply attracted and half hoped Pippin cared. He was clean and good. There was strength in him and when one sees in his majestic sweep, in all its blue spitting heavily the San Francisco Bay, the winds and the noise enclosing him.

PIPPIN, YOU'RE LIKE A DREAM COME TRUE

"Pippin," said the boy, "you'll never know what it means to me meeting you."

"Bill, you break my heart," "I'm not foolish. You're so sweet. Like a dream come true I've never met such a girl."

"The world is full of us." "Oh, no," said the boy, "I like you. I know you. You think and you act altogether different from the others. You take my breath away, you're so damn beautiful. I'm going to be a doctor."

"Oh, Bill, don't spoil your preaching two years with unwhipped. Think how wonderful to be a man and all the wide gray ocean, while you get ready for the life you're going to meet so bravely."

"See what other girl would ever go as deep thing like that? Do you should meet me?"

"Perhaps. Or I pretend to worry just to tease David and my mother. Helena teases so easily. It's almost impossible to trouble a gold angel like you."

"You're the same... a gold angel."

She glanced up mildly, found his eyes on her. Quickly, he young face white and pleading, he bent down and kissed her lips. It disturbed her. It made tears rush to her eyes.

"Yet it was sweet. It was delicious."

What is happening to Pippin? She finds she must decide on the man she loves best. Read tomorrow's installment.

Hand Bone Snaps in Topsy Tussle

When Sergt. Felix A. Dumas of the Everett police went into a bowling alley to arrest two youths for drunkenness at Everett, he carried out his mission, but he brought him prison.

After arresting the pair who were hooked at Frank's saloon, 17 of Main st., and Patrick Treckett, 17, of Cottage st., Dumas went to the Massachusetts General Hospital where surgeons found he had fractured his left hand in the scuffle.

Autoist Burned in Garage Fire

John T. Curtis, 35, of Lincoln, was badly burned this morning in a vain attempt to save a bludge auto in the garage in the rear of his home.

He was taken to Concord, where he received medical treatment.

Season of Colds Is Starter for Mastoiditis

By ROYAL R. COPELAND, M. D.

This is the season when mastoiditis is especially prevalent among young children. It is probable that the increase in the number of cases of mastoiditis at this time of year can be traced to the prevalence of colds, coughs and influenza in bad and stormy weather.

We used to believe that mastoiditis was a serious and fatal disease. We know now that when the disturbance is recognized in its early stages and proper measures are taken, speedy cure is possible.

Despite the tremendous advances made in the treatment of mastoiditis, many still fear the disease. They are alarmed by the conflicting stories concerning the disorder.

I may assure the worried parent that the disease can be successfully treated by operation. The mastoid operation has been so perfected that it is no longer a dangerous procedure. Danger exists only when the disease is neglected or the operation delayed.

Mastoiditis is a "mastoiditis," as it is more commonly called, is an inflammation within the mastoid bone. This bone is the prominent flat bone behind the ear. It contains the middle ear communication with the nose through the "Eustachian tube."

Germs of the common cold, cough or influenza travel from the nose or throat through the eustachian tube to the ear. There they set up an inflammation which may extend into the mastoid.

Mastoiditis frequently occurs after a severe cold or infection of the nose or throat. It is especially common after an attack of influenza or pneumonia.

As a rule, the sufferer first complains of a severe earache. The pain is relieved when a discharge appears from the affected ear. Unless drainage is obtained, the inflammation, there may be marked swelling behind the ear.

When the disease occurs acutely, it is easy to determine the source of trouble. An adult can accurately locate and describe the pain. But when the victim is young he is frightened and inaccurately describes the pain.

The young sufferer is restless, irritable and runs a high fever. The picture is confusing and unpleasant. The X-ray helps to show whether the mastoid really is involved.

Relief and cure sometimes occur spontaneously. This is especially true in the case of young children. Should home remedies be resorted to? It is important to be given unless under the supervision of a physician.

For further information, write to the American Society for the Relief of Mastoiditis, 1214 American Building, Boston, Mass.

WOMAN RECALLED GUN IN LYNN BANDIT'S SHAD

NEARLY FELL FIGHT AGAINST INDICTMENTS

Seven of Old Jury Will Hear the Pleas in U. S. Court

Seven members of the jury that returned a verdict against Daniel C. Muloney, president of the Federal National Bank yesterday, are serving on a new jury impaneled in Federal court today to try the plea to quash four additional indictments against the banker.

The foreman of the new jury is Walter E. Wilkinson, Lynnfield contractor. He was also foreman of the jury whose findings yesterday meant that Muloney would have to face trial on two indictments charging him with misapplication of $97,000 bank funds, which the panel declared had been legally received by the grand jury.

In outlining the attack by the defense on the four indictments involved in the present trial, Attorney Taylor declared that Muloney had been forced to testify against himself before the grand jury on July 24. Taylor further asserted that Prosecutor Irving G. McCall had no right to summon Muloney before the grand jury.

Despite the claim made by McCall, added Attorney Taylor, "to the effect that he was not indicted against anyone at that sitting, the fact will show that he was seeking indictments against Muloney when the government agents had been running for four months as the outstanding personality in the Federal National Bank structure."

"They had been after Muloney months before McCall arrived in Boston," Wharton had been here and he was followed by Agent Cohen of the Department of Justice and then along came McCall from Washington.

Girl Nearly Fells Lawyer in Chile Consul Suit

A federal court jury, after a speedy trial productive of many chuckles, will take under consideration late today the $10,000 slander suit brought by Mrs. Dorothy Jackson La Pore, of Everett, against her former employer, Senator Manuel S. Sigren, now acting Chilean consul in New York.

Mrs. La Pore, an attractive Everett mother of one child, testified she was dismissed from Sigren's employ while he was consul in Boston in 1932, because he accused her of stealing $728 from his stamp money. He "broke her" while ejecting her from his office, she also testified.

One incident of the trial nearly resulted disastrously for Al Sigren, young lawyer, who handled the consul's case and appeared before a jury for the first time.

He asked Mrs. La Pore to demonstrate, on him, how Sigren handled her when he ejected her from his office on the day after Thanksgiving, 1932.

He is so small and she demonstrated with such enthusiasm, placing her hands on his shoulders and twisting him around, that he all but landed under the rail of the jury box.

At one point in his testimony, the consul said:

"I would not say that she was reliable or unreliable. I could only say that she was extremely funny. She tried to come into my office and talk to me about things in which I had no concern and which I had time to waste."

He said he returned from a business trip of 10 or 12 days and covered more than 300 telephone calls had been made from his office.

Some of these were long distance calls. Sigren admitted some were personal but said customers of the consul's shampoo preparation business made most of them—there were only about 100 any day.

Sigren, dark eyes flashing, denied he told anyone about his wife's alleged infidelity.

His testimony that he told her when he hired her that he had had experience with young and attractive girls in business, and preferred older women, drew a gasp from the jury.

His wife, Dorothy, a talented and beautiful wife, Senora C. B. Sigren, South American, daughter and descendant of Spanish nobility, is the wife of the consul.

She testified she was working at the time during the unpleasant interview.

Sigren swore with considerable gusto, she said, and not only asked her to leave but threatened to have her arrested.

PLEA TO BEAT EXILE "I'm Too Good American to Hurt Roosevelt," Wizard Says

By FRED PERKINS

Allen thought he may be in the eye of the law, Charles Ponzi is "too good an American at heart" to embarrass the Roosevelt administration by dragging his extradition fight through the courts, he said today.

Convinced, he declared, that he will get a fair hearing under President Roosevelt's New Deal, Ponzi now plans, he said, to appear personally at Washington to plead his case before immigration authorities.

The government ruled to against him, said the ex-time "wizard" of finance, he will submit "evidence" to demonstrate that he will get a fair hearing under President Roosevelt's New Deal, Ponzi now plans, he said, to appear personally at Washington to plead his case before immigration authorities.

Ponzi Tells Plans to Go Into Exile if—

Charles Ponzi told Fred Perkins of the Boston Evening American of his plans to appeal directly to Washington to forestall his deportation.

"If they refuse my plea I shall go," he said.

"Then in a year I shall ask them to let me return to this land I love," (Boston American photo.)

NETS AT ATTACK OF DEFENSE MRS. COSTELLO'S 'TWIN' Aids Prosecution at Slaying Trial

Once again the lawyers who are defending Connel M. Lacy and Louis Berri in the charges of murder and robbery "went south" and broke down the defense in a story told by a girl who was in the scene continuous. And once again they failed.

Today it was Mrs. Hazel Dutch, of 12 Elm St., Lynn, a cleaner in the Paramount theater, there was called for cross-examination.

Lake Michael Ford, her fellow worker, who was cross-examined and before she took the stand yesterday, she stuck to her story, remained positive in her identification of the Brighton taxi driver, JENNIE RECALLED.

Attired in a black and white dress, Dutch came to the stand and faced the crowd of spectators and trial fans to confront an onslaught of questions from the defense.

The Peabody widow, who was cleared of the crime, said her husband in the same court room and who told her story from the same chair.

Mrs. Dutch was a good government witness under cross-examination. She was calm and alert and answered the questions of the defense with a steady hand.

SUSPECT FLEES IN MARYLAND

Just too late, State police broke into an apartment in Boylston St., Back Bay, seeking Merton Miller, wanted for questioning in connection with the robbery of the Lincoln Trust Co. and consequent murders, it was revealed today.

The officers had received a tip that the man, who with his brother, Irving, installed a short wave radio set in the alleged band, had been in the apartment with his 19-year-old wife, Norma, and possibly with his brother.

The authorities admitted they took a number of objects from the apartment that may be of value to them in the case, but refused to divulge their nature.

Meanwhile, they expressed the theory that Miller, his wife and brother are no route to Montana, where the young woman's mother is now the wife of a wealthy man.

Descriptions of the three and the car they are believed to be using have been broadcast.

Time Surely Does Fly When Wifely Hurls the Clock

Time flies, the old adage says, and it flew fast yesterday when Mrs. Thelma E. Knudson, Jr., of Enfield rd., Wintthrop, threw a clock at her husband, striking him on the forehead.

Then in August, I was cleaning my gun for a forthcoming shooting trip, and she came into the room.

She began to speak to me, she became angry, picked up a gun and threw it at me. It struck me on the forehead.

Mrs. Knudson is a divorcee. Her husband was a divorcee. Her husband was a divorcee.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

Time surely does fly when Wifely Hurls the Clock

Time flies, the old adage says, and it flew fast yesterday when Mrs. Thelma E. Knudson, Jr., of Enfield rd., Wintthrop, threw a clock at her husband, striking him on the forehead.

Then in August, I was cleaning my gun for a forthcoming shooting trip, and she came into the room.

She began to speak to me, she became angry, picked up a gun and threw it at me. It struck me on the forehead.

Mrs. Knudson is a divorcee. Her husband was a divorcee. Her husband was a divorcee.

Phone in News Tips to the Boston American and Advertiser—Win $100 Weekly in Prizes

Do you want to make some money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American and the Sunday Advertiser are presenting the opportunity. Every week a total of $100 in prizes will be given for news tips telephoned in to the News Tip Editor at Liberty 4000. And what is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an important meeting is scheduled for a certain date, that an accident has happened, that there is going to be a business merger, that a celebrity is coming to town? That's a news tip. There will be given $50 weekly for the best first exclusive news tip received, $15 for the next best, $10 for the next best and $1 prizes for each of the 25 next most valuable tips. This offer is now in effect. Remember that SPEED is the watchword. First to the telephone wins the award. News tips mean money.

REVIVE HEARST
MOTORBOAT CARNIVAL

By JACK LAWRENCE

New York, Feb. 18.—William Randolph Hearst, through the New York American, announced last night that on Sunday, June 24, he will revive the around Manhattan motorboat race, an event which has not been held since the summer of 1911. This year's contest will be held by the New York American and the trophies and cash prizes will be offered by Mr. Hearst.

There has been a general demand that the city's water supply be put under public control. No one, nobody took the initiative, until Mr. Hearst made his announcement last night.

The race will be open to all classes of inboards and outboards, ranging in length from 10-foot skiffs up to the famous gold cup racers. Cash prizes will be put up for the professional drivers and handsome trophies for the amateurs.

The race will be given an international aspect due to the fact that a number of the foreign outboard drivers coming here from England, France, Germany, Italy and Sweden to compete for the "William Randolph Hearst" international outboard championship trophy in Florida next month will remain over to take part in the around Manhattan Island event.

Irish, Green and Wolverine Focus Grid Genius on Crimson Future

A touch of Fesler's Ohio State lore for the ends from Walsh a few of Rockne's choicest line hints, and the biter part of the brilliant Jesse Hawley attack from Lane, and Harvard football will step ahead this fall. Here are the three Harvard grid alden, named today, for Eddie Casey for 1934. Under Casey's masterful direction the four will become a happy family. Crimson grid followers will be able to rejoice with the teachers, if dreams come true.

N.E.P.G.A. Holds Meeting at Lenox

The New England section of the N.E.P.G.A. will hold a meeting of its board of governors at Hotel Lenox at 6 o'clock this evening. Louis B. Thompson, president of the section, will preside.

Fesler, Lane and Walsh were starting to make plans today for the coming football drive, when they'll gather as a unit under Eddie Casey at Harvard for the first time. Fesler, former Ohio State All-American, was a Harvard grid worker last fall. Lane, ex-Dartmouth all back and later head coach at B. U., is a newcomer to Harvard coaching. As is Walsh. One of Rockne's greatest linemen at Notre Dame. For the past three years an assistant in Yale football.

American's Rookies Get Tribal Orders

The first Braves to receive spring getaway instructions are Elbert Fletcher of Milton and Al White of Brighton.

What with a year on his eye, it's found to need more experience and want it, I'll place you in the minor.

Both of you are big, strong, young and intelligent. There's always plenty of room at the top for your type. Stick to it and you'll be in the majors in no time.

Both youngsters thanked the Braves for the opportunity and advice and hurried to their respective homes. Fletcher will leave for Milton on March 8 and White on March 9 on every calendar.

It's a shame that neither of them was made today in the Yankees.

"I will assure the boys that they would be as much the beneficiary and consideration as anyone," said the coach. "I will tell Bill McKeehine and he urged them not to be discouraged if they failed to make the grade immediately."

"Very few of the boys accomplished the jump you are attempting on the first try," he warned them. "I will be encouraged if you fail. Be determined to succeed."

The Harvard games will mark the first appearance of Coach Sieroff since his Boston departure. Sieroff who replaced "Bruin" Fowler as hockey coach at Harvard was in a Dorchester product. He started his hockey at the old Arena and Coach at Brown. Nichols was a renegade and Choate School before coming up with the Indians of the North.

Due to renewed interest in the athletes at Dartmouth, since the first of the season, the coaching staff, there will be a far larger attendance at the games. In attendance tonight at the Quaker meeting was a large number of fans.

Four times in less than that number of minutes.

Art Robinson is coming into his own as a great hockey player when he was with Philadelphia in the Can-Am League, but it is only recently that he has been getting any real chance to show his ability, of which he is plentifully.

The Bruin-Maroon game was the poorest attended since the first of the season. The game was played in the N. H. L. With the Bruins leading 2-0 in the first half, the Maroons were outplayed in the first half, the fans have been

I MET KAYE three years ago in a small town in California, telling folks he was going to stage a come back. "I weighed 147 pounds and could kick the dempsy of today," said Kaye. "I was a champion and one and if he ever fights again he will be knocked out first round." He was from Fresno. Proving he knew his own ring limitations.

Dempsey could have made $100,000 in a come back bout, but knew that was a long shot. He probably has ended up on the canvas. He was too poor for that. He was money for what he should be pushing up a great deal of.

KEARNS NEVER thought a great deal of Schmelling as a fighter.

"Schmelling was always a quitter," Kearns told me. "He quit to shirk in their first fight. He quit before the canvas and claiming foul when he wasn't hurt. He quit to shirk in the second fight. He was praised to take a few punches, crush past the Sharkey defense and then quit. He quit to go to the head and body. He quit to Walker when the latter was in a brick work. He quit when he was crushed low. Mickey was out on his feet when Mac started." Kearns' views on Schmelling were shared by many persons connected with the fight.

Wahls has been used on the Boston Bruins hockey team, connected with the gymnasium of the city. Foster has been at Harvard for the last three years. Lane, who is defense on the Boston Bruins hockey team, is a member of the Bruins and all football seasons. He continues his studies in the Boston College.

Lane and Wahls are well acquainted in the same style of play. Mac is a member of the Boston team at Boston University, and Wahls is a member of the team at Dartmouth. Mac and Wahls are the statement that Jew of how he may have acted in the previous matches, Schmelling went to the ring with a clean conscience. He was blinded by his own belief that he made a furious rally in the eighth round, but he was unable to attempt to turn the tide of battle in his favor by scoring a knockout.

"Tiger's" Winning Hand

THE HAMAS victory has given Jack Dempsey an opponent for Max Baer. Dempsey can worry the big brawler, who has been in the New York Garden or Primm Casino, Baer realizes he will get much more money fighting Hamas than he would for a contest with Cus D'Amato. He still also has a better chance of winning.

FRESH BUCKS ON STOCKS

New York, Feb. 15.—Fresh buying brought gains in numerous stocks in afternoon trading on the New York Stock Exchange today. International purchasing pushed prices higher among the bulls, although improvement did not carry to all parts of the list. Some of the utility and industrial held built while the rest were extremely narrow.

Steel shares benefited by a late active demand. A number of specialties were also prominent.

Toward the close some profit-taking reduced gains in many instances.

Allied Chemical and Armour of Illinois preferred soared around 5 points. Creditable Steel rose more than a point and U. S. Steel, Standard Oil of New York, General Electric, American Telephone and Chrysler gained major fractions to more than a point.

Questionnaire sent by the stock exchange to members regarding details of recent transactions in aviation issues did not excite any particular excitement. Some brokers inferred that an effort was being made to find out if aviation stocks had advanced information on the cancellation of the new aircraft contracts which caused a sharp break in the aircraft stocks.

The first hour trend turned mixed with metals and oils showing improvement, while utilities and industrials advanced moderately. Standard Oil of California and Atlantic Refining recorded gains of about a point. Alaska, J. P. Morgan, Dome and Plains were fractions to a point higher as the period closed.

U. S. Steel and American Telephone were down fractionally. Department Stores advanced over a point. Ward and P. H. R. and fraction. American Can eased off a point. American Express, American Oil dropped 2 points. Rayco Oil gained a gain of better than a point.

In the second hour the market sales to 11 a. m. approximated 710,000 shares.

Hardly a stock higher under a modest buying flurry, but actively some could again and price changes were highly inconspicuous.

Bond prices were steady in moderately active trading. Some corporate issues in both the lower and higher price brackets pushed up a point or so. U. S. Governments were inactive, with prices unchanged from yesterday's close.

Sales in afternoon approximated 560,000 shares.

In the third hour trading was at a dull pace with prices showing irregularities. Issues up a point or more embraced Columbia, Colgate, Douglas, Continental Insurance, Owens, Best, May, Alcoa, Auburn and Armco. Armco of Illinois preferred sold up 4 points. Hercules and McIntire advanced over 2.

Jersey Central edged 2 points. American Smelting, American Commercial Aircraft and Macy were down a point or more.

Sales to 1 p. m. approximated 1,070,000 shares.

In the fourth hour a firm tone was maintained. Gains ran up 1 1/2 points. In the packing group Armour of Illinois preferred was up a point and the issue of Armour of Illinois preferred rose more than a point.

Bedford Industries, American Agricultural Chemical, Auburn, Alcoa Powder, McIntire Porcelain, Flaxton, Paine, and Oil of New Jersey and Standard of California.

Chrysler led the motor shares higher, and the auto group ground into the night, secondary shares. Railroad shares were strong under the leadership of Union Pacific and New York Central.
